NEWS SUMMARY.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Levy Hartridge, cashier of the First National Bank of Seneca Falls, in a state of temporary insanity, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat at the Syracuse House, Syracuse, N. Y., yesterday morning.

Henry King, a real estate broker, was arrested Sunday in New York, and committed for trial on a charge of swindling Henry C. [illegible] of twelve hundred dollars in gold, the latter having sent that amount to the city from Louisville, to a firm of a similar name as King. King received the money by mistake and appropriated it.

Accounts from Trenton, New Jersey, Baltimore, Syracuse, Providence, Hartford, Portland, Maine, and many other places, state that in all those cities highly impressive ceremonies were performed in decorating the graves of Union soldiers in their various cemeteries yesterday. The posts of the Grand Army of the Republic in those cities, together with soldiers' widows and orphans and thousands of citizens participated.

Matthew Newkirk, one of the wealthiest and most public spirited citizens of Philadelphia, died Sunday evening. He superintended the erection of Girard College, and was for many years a member of Philadelphia Select Council. He was a warm admirer and personal friend of Henry Clay. In the war of 1812 Mr. Newkirk was a Lieutenant, and distinguished himself in several actions. He died at the age of seventy-six.

Four and a quarter millions of specie went to Europe last week, and the flow is not expected to decrease for some time.

Ex-Police Commissioner William McMurray, of New York, died on Sunday, of apoplexy.

Miss Hauck, the prima donna, is about to leave for Europe for a two years' study.

Two heavy shocks of an earthquake were felt at Sacramento about nine o'clock Sunday night. It was not felt at all at San Francisco, or along the coast, but very severe in the State of Nevada, where it seems to have been the principal seat of disturbance. Four heavy shocks were felt at Fort Churchill and Virginia City, but no damage was done at the latter place except some large buildings racked. Everybody managed to get out of doors. The pumps in the Savage mine were stopped, and the workmen thought a cave had occurred.

A letter was received at the Treasury Department Saturday, including two one-thousand dollar seven-thirty notes. It was post-marked New York, May 29th, but contained no evidence whatever that could lead to the discovery of the sender. The numbers of the notes were carefully cut out, and the address, namely, "Treasury Department, Washington," had been taken from a newspaper and pasted on the envelope. The interior contained the words, cut from a newspaper paragraph, in a previously announced conscience case, "this money rightfully belongs to the United States." The notes will be placed to the credit of the Treasury Department.

Coleman Pope, a man seventy years old, committed suicide in Indianapolis yesterday, by shooting himself. Partial insanity is supposed to have been the cause.

Solomon Bell, arrested in Mansfield, Ohio, on a requisition from the Governor of Massachusetts, charged with robbing Rufus [illegible], of Concord, of $10,000, in government bonds, etc., arrived in Boston yesterday.

The announcement that Mr. Burlingame is on a visit to Cambridge, Mass., is incorrect.

Visitors are already flocking to Saratoga. The Union Hotel opened yesterday.

It is understood Judge Wilmot will soon be appointed Lieutenant Governor of New Brunswick.

On Saturday, at Doylestown, Bucks county, Pa., a monument was dedicated to the memory of the heroes of the One Hundred and Fourth Pennsylvania Volunteers who fell during the rebellion. [illegible] General Emory delivered an eloquent oration, giving a history of the noble corps, [illegible] which at least allowed the rebellion to occur—State sovereignty. He said, let every soldier at least insist that while he owes obedience to State and municipal law, he owes allegiance only to the United States.

The races over the Woodland Course, at Louisville, will commence to-day and continue two days. There will be two races each day, quite a number of fine horses have arrived, including some of those that were in Cincinnati and St. Louis. The sport promises to be fine.

The steamer Borussia, from Hamburg, 1st, arrived at New York. The ship Alice Ball, recently watched by a Spanish frigate at St. Thomas, arrived Sunday.

Washington specials say General Grant has written to the House Committee on Military Affairs, recommending an increase of one third in the pay of army officers.

At the Hoboken races, the hurdle race, two miles was won by Black Bird, beating Harry Booth, Eagle, Gerald and Tycoon; time 4:05. [illegible]

The report that Father McMahon was flogged and his confinement made more irksome in consequence of the discovery of his reading a Fenian paper is authoritatively denied.

The acquittal of Johnson excites no feeling in California. It was generally considered a foregone conclusion. The Union papers mostly speak of the result as proof of the high character of the Republican institutions. The Democrats say it would be the death of the Republican party. Grant ratification meetings continue through the State. The Democratic press have very nearly all hoisted the name of Governor Haight for President.

Ed. Howell, a negro, was shot and fatally wounded by a desperado named Charles McSweeney, on Saturday night, on Hernando street, Memphis, in a row about dogs.

Two men had a fight in a barber shop on Second street, Memphis, yesterday afternoon. They attacked each other with knives, when the one assailed drew a revolver and shot his assailant through the arm. The ball then struck a negro named Edwin Davis in the forehead, killing him instantly. Davis was passing, and hearing the difficulty, looked in the door just as the shot was fired.

A Galveston dispatch says: George P. Douglass, late general internal tax inspector, indicted by the Grand Jury for complicity in the bonded warehouse and whisky frauds, arrived here to-day and voluntarily surrendered himself to Marshal [illegible].

A portion of the wall of an old store on the corner of Eighth and Market streets, Philadelphia, which was being torn down, fell yesterday afternoon upon the laborers. Two were taken out seriously injured. Others are supposed to be buried under the ruins.

Hon. Wm. E. Stevenson.

The many friends here of Hon. Wm. E. Stevenson were glad to take him by the hand yesterday on his arrival on a brief visit to this city, and to congratulate him on being the Union Republican nominee for Governor of West Virginia. Mr. Stevenson deserves well of the people of free West Virginia, for during all his life he has been a consistent friend of freedom in all its political forms, and an advocate of all measures tending to the advancement of the interests of the people and the country. He has taken a prominent part in the public affairs of West Virginia from the date of its existence to the present time, and the unanimity with which his nomination for Governor was made manifests the strong hold he has in the affections of the people of that State. His election is a foregone conclusion.

Lord Brougham will be talked of for many a day. The memoirs of him in the English press were generally laudatory. That by Miss Harriet Martineau alone entered into any analysis of his character. His tendency to caprice and his over-powering vanity paralyzed the action of his noble intellectual gifts. [illegible] died.

Dr. [illegible]'s book on domesticated plants and animals does not support the prevailing notion that the union of near kin inevitably and speedily ruins the race, yet shows that the posterity are sooner or later weakened by it if long continued. But a careful collector of statistics of marriages between blood relations, Dr. Bemiss of Kentucky, insists that "he has found that ten per cent. of the deaf and dumb, five per cent. of the blind, and fifteen per cent. of the idiots admitted into the various charitable institutions of the United States, are the issues of marriages of first cousins." Unions of this kind are now prohibited in Kentucky and in some other States.

SPEAKING of Presidential nominations and the claims of Northern Democrats "who kept their political faith and integrity under all the trials and temptations of the late war," the Mobile Register says: "But there is another class of men, whom people appear to forget, and to whom our obligations are still higher. This class includes Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee, Joseph E. Johnston, and a few others of the same sort. If we are to discard all considerations of policy or availability, why not go to the fountain head of principle or sentiment and nominate one of these at once?"

In accordance with an act of Assembly, approved April 9th, 1868, "for the relief of the citizens of the counties of Adams, Franklin, Fulton, Bedford, York, Perry and Cumberland, whose property was destroyed, damaged or appropriated for the public service, and in the common defense, in the war to suppress the rebellion," the Governor has appointed the following named gentlemen a Board of Commissioners to investigate and adjudicate the claims of said citizens: David W. Woods, Lewistown, Mifflin county; Anthony S. Ely, Lebanon, Lebanon county; W. S. Woods, Carlisle, Cumberland county.

THEY VOTE AS THEY FOUGHT.—The Morgantown, West Va., Post, says: We do not know of a single honorably discharged Union soldier in Morgantown acting or voting with the Copperhead party, while on the other hand there are dozens of honorably discharged Union soldiers acting and voting with the Republican Union party. Is not this a significant fact? The "boys in blue" are firm as a rock, and will "vote as they shot."

SAYS a Boston paper: The Boston delegation to the National Board of Trade, at Philadelphia, will receive special attention. This will be done as a mark of gratitude for past favors. One Philadelphia gentleman reports that whenever he visits the Hub he returns feeling as if his cap was made of india—in other words, as though he were an extraordinarily large-sized bottle of champagne. Who can account for that strange phenomena?

At St. Louis, yesterday, a large meeting of merchants was addressed by Mr. Stewart, of Mobile, on the subject of reopening Bayou Manchac, giving St. Louis and the Northwest a direct water route to Mobile harbor. Resolutions were adopted welcoming the Mobile delegation, recommending the enterprise, and appointing a committee to accompany them to Louisville, Cincinnati and the cities of the Northwest.

A valuable discovery has just been made in Venango county, the land of oil. A vein of lead ore has been struck which, it is said, yields sixty-eight per cent. of lead and eighteen per cent. of silver. Although the location of the vein is not given, we are informed there is an old tradition of a silver mine having been known to the Indians near where the ore was found.

General Schenck's New Tax Bill.

Gen. Stoneman Assigned to Virginia.

Jeff. Davis's Trial to be Again Postponed

The Impeachment Investigation.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1, 1868.

Officers of the Senate.

The Senate caucus this morning was well attended. Several of the anti-impeachment Republicans were present and nothing was said about reading them out of the party or excluding their votes. Ex-Senator [illegible], who had the inside track for the Secretaryship, requested a withdrawal of his name from the list of candidates, and it was finally, after some discussion, unanimously resolved to go into an election on Thursday morning for all officers of the Senate, viz: Secretary, Chief Clerk, Executive Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms, Doorkeeper and Congressional Printer. Candidates for all the places are numerous and excitement runs high among their friends. It seems probable enough that some of the present officers will be re-elected.

The New Tax Bill.

General Schenck's speech on opening the debate on the tax bill was very favorably received by the House this afternoon. He spoke two hours, and was listened to throughout with close attention. His speech may properly be divided into three parts. First, he spoke about the working and defects of the present law, showing how various rings prevent the collection of the tax and rob the Government of its revenues. Second, he explained the new bill with much detail, stating how it differs from the old law and how it will operate beneficially. Third, he presented an exhibit of the estimated receipts and expenditures for the coming fiscal year. This was by far the most interesting and valuable part of his speech. General debate on the new bill will close on Wednesday, and it will then be taken up, section by section.

The War Office.

General Schofield visited the White House this morning and received his commission as Secretary of War from the President. He then accompanied him to the War Office. General Townsend delivered the keys of office to him and he immediately entered upon his duties without ceremonies. He was visited during the day by nearly all the prominent military officers on duty in the city.

New Commander for Virginia.

The first order of consequence passing through the new Secretary's hands was one assigning General Stoneman to the command of the District of Virginia. General J. A. Campbell, General Schofield's Adjutant General, will remain on duty in Richmond with General Stoneman.

The Arkansas Bill.

Senator Drake to-day got through two amendments to the Arkansas bill by a handsome majority. The first was to strike out the words "in form" from the preamble stating that Arkansas had adopted a constitution republican in form. The second was in the body of the bill, adding to the condition that the constitution shall not be so amended as to deprive any class of elective franchise the words "or any other right."

The Bridge Question.

Captain A. Q. Ross, representing the steamboat interest of Cincinnati, was before the House Committee on Post-offices and Post Roads to-day, and presented an argument in favor of bridges of five hundred feet span. The committee is unanimously in favor of the general bill fixing that length for the main span.

The Jeff. Davis Case.

The Chief Justice leaves for Richmond to-morrow. It is understood, however, that the trial of Jeff. Davis will be postponed.

Decorating Soldiers' Graves.

General Miller, of the Quartermaster's Department, who refused to contribute towards the decoration of soldiers' graves unless the graves of rebels received the same attention, to-day called up the clerks in his room and said the report of his remarks were correct, though no one was authorized to report them. He said it was the rule of war that the dead of both sides deserved equal honor. He said this was recognized in the Revolution and in the Mexican war, and he did not shrink from the position he had taken.

Dubose-Morgan Contest.

The Dubose and Morgan case is set for to-morrow. Morgan desires delay. The Committee will ask that it proceed, and will show that both parties had about the same hearing in arguments, Dubose taking nine days before the Committee, and Morgan ten.

Impeachment Investigation.

The managers had a long session to-day. Perry Fuller, of Kansas, was examined at length, and his admissions were such, as Butler claims will materially strengthen his case. E. D. Webster, to whom Wooley sent the dispatch, "he will do it," testified that it had no connection with impeachment, but referred to the position of a [illegible] promised by the President. He also said he remained here in Washington at the request of Secretary Seward to keep watch of the situation and that at Seward's suggestion he telegraphed to Hastings, the Albany party, to come down and help study up the matter.

Washburne-Donnelly Affair.

The Washburne-Donnelly Investigation Committee reported this afternoon in substance what has already been telegraphed. Donnelly is not pleased with the situation, and wanted to make another speech or explanation, but the House, because of Washburne's absence, refused to let him say much.

Thanks to Stanton.

The Senate spent considerable time to-day in considering the resolution of thanks to Mr. Stanton. Mr. Fessenden made a very strong and eloquent speech in favor of its passage. Mr. Henderson finally offered an amendment complimenting the course of the Chief Justice in the trial of the President. This was lost—11 to 30, the Republicans voting for it being Henderson, Fowler and Ross. The main resolution then passed, 27 to 11, the same Republicans voting in the negative.

The House and Adjournment.

The Republican House caucus this evening met at 8 o'clock and continued in session two hours, and adjourned without any action. The main proposition before it was whether the tax bill shall be acted upon this session or put over to next winter. Incidental to this, and connected with it, was the question of adjournment. The adjournment party proved to be comparatively weak, despite its loud talk. It seemed to be the opinion of at least two-thirds that the tax bill must be put through the House, leaving the Senate to take the responsibility of finally throwing it over to another session. If it does go over, The whisky tax was touched upon by several speakers, and the view appeared to be that the present rate will be much reduced.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1, 1868.

THE NEW WAR SECRETARY.

The oath of office was this morning administered to General Schofield as Secretary of War by Chief Justice Chase, at the residence of the latter, after which General Schofield proceeded to the Executive Mansion, in company with Colonel Campbell, of his staff, and after a short stay, during which his commission was handed him by the President, he was accompanied by Mr. Johnson and Adjutant General Thomas to the War Department, where he assumed his duties. No formal order has been issued yet on taking charge, and it is not thought any material changes will be made affecting any of the officers now on duty at the War Department. Colonel Wherry, Major Rathbone and Captain [illegible], of General Schofield's personal staff, will probably be assigned to duty in the War Department as aids. General Grant called shortly after the new Secretary had made his appearance, and paid his respects, as also did many others, including the heads of Bureaus of the War Department, General Rawlings and other members of the staff of the General in Chief, and other prominent army officers. General Thomas will be absent from Washington for a few days, and on his return will, it is understood, resume his official duties as Adjutant General of the army.

THE IMPEACHMENT MANAGERS

Had General Adams before them to-day, and it is said they will inquire into Collector Smythe's affairs.

TARIFF BILL.

The sub-committee of Ways and Means will report a tariff bill to that Committee to-morrow. It will revise the entire subject. There will be no reduction, but rather an increase of duties, owing to the large reductions in the tax bill.

GEN. STONEMAN TO COMMAND THE FIRST DISTRICT.

The following order was to-day received by Gen. Schofield from the President:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1, 1868.

Major General John M. Schofield having been appointed, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, Secretary for the Department of War, is hereby relieved from the command of the First Military District, created by the act of Congress passed March 2d, 1867. Brevet Major General Stoneman is hereby assigned, according to his Brevet rank of Major General, to the command of the First District, and of the Military Department of Virginia. The Secretary of War will please give the necessary instructions to carry this order into effect.

(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON.

In accordance with the above, a general order will be promulgated from the Headquarters of the Army for the information of all concerned, and also assigning General Stoneman to duty in accordance therewith.

GENERAL SCOFIELD

Has this afternoon been busily engaged in transacting War Department business which has lately accumulated, but a large number of visitors have called during the day to pay their respects.

WOOLEY'S NEW QUARTERS.

Carpenters are at work putting down a new floor and otherwise preparing one of the basement rooms of the capitol for the occupation of Mr. Wooley.

WEEKLY TREASURY STATEMENT.

Fractional currency issued for the week, $417,600; amount shipped, $[illegible]; United States notes shipped, $[illegible]; National Bank currency issued, $[illegible]; fractional currency destroyed $[illegible].

BILL FOR PROTECTION OF GOVERNMENT OFFICERS.

The bill introduced in the House by Mr. Butler to-day allows officers and agents of the Government to plead in bar of any action that the act was done or omitted to be done in the administration of an act of Congress, such plea to be a complete bar to any such suit.

THE CHINESE EMBASSY.

Envoy Burlingame and suite arrived this evening. Many of his old friends paid their respects in the course of the evening. He visited the Secretary of State.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

In the Republican caucus to-night seventy members were present. All resolutions relative to the tax bill were tabled, including one that the House should only consider the sections concerning whisky and tobacco, it being considered unfair to shape legislation on the subject in a party caucus. No day was set for adjournment, but the general impression is that Congress will continue until the 15th of July. The general sentiment favored a reduction of the tax on whisky.

The grain crops North of Atlanta look very fine, but in middle and Southwest Georgia the rust has made its appearance.

MANSFIELD, OHIO.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

MANSFIELD, O., June 1, 1868.

An old German named Wheatrow hung himself Saturday night last, by tying a rope around his neck, attaching the other end to a rafter in his stable and jumping out of the loft window. He was discovered early Sunday morning dead. The story is, he came home drunk, was refused admittance and went to the stable and hung himself. He leaves a large family.

A daring burglarious attempt was made last evening on the house of W. S. Hickox, cashier of the First National Bank, probably with a view of obtaining the keys of the bank. The robbers gained admittance into the room on the second floor, occupied by one of the servants, by means of a ladder brought from the house of a neighbor, and removing a pane of glass, they were enabled to undo the fastenings of the window. They passed into the kitchen. Taking several large towels off the rollers, they tied heavy stones in them, to be used as slung shots. They then assaulted the hired girl in the room first entered, choking her and smothering her with a pillow. They attempted to tie her hands, but her struggles prevented. The object was doubtless to frighten the girl and make her show them Mr. Hickox's room, as they asked during the struggle where Mr. Hickox slept. The servant, a stout Irish girl, fought the robbers so energetically that she finally broke loose from them and ran to Mr. Hickox's room. In the meantime, a little daughter of Mr. Hickox, sleeping in an adjoining room, was awakened by the struggle and called to her father that some one was in the girl's room. Mr. Hickox sprang up, seized his revolver and as he was leaving the room was met by the servant girl, her face covered with blood and frantic with fright. He ran to the window in the direction indicated by the girl and hearing a noise fired several shots in the direction from which it proceeded, but darkness prevented his seeing any one, and before he could get out of doors the robbers had got out of reach. They had commenced to retreat as soon as the girl escaped from them. In the darkness the girl could not tell how many were in the room, but thinks there were two or three. She was considerably injured by choking and pressure of the ruffian's knee on her breast in the attempt to smother or gag her. Her tongue is badly bitten and throat swollen. Several stones weighing two or three pounds, were brought into the room, and one was found lying on the bed.

Democratic Primary Elections in Ashland, Ohio.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

ASHLAND, OHIO, June 1, 1868.

The Democratic primary elections for District Judge and county officers took place in Ashland county Saturday. The following persons received a majority of the votes cast: Hon. Geo. [illegible], District Judge; R. M. Campbell, County Auditor; W. O. Porter, Sheriff; J. J. [illegible], Prosecuting Attorney; Wm. Cowan, Commissioner; M. Lotts, Infirmary Director. The whole vote at the primary election was fifteen hundred and nineteen.

Canine and Feline Jealousy.

A New York letter contains the following:

A striking case of jealousy in an animal occurred last evening. We have a Newfoundland dog, who has been a great favorite in the house and the recipient of much attention. A few days ago we brought home a couple of "pointer" pups, which became objects of great attraction with young and old. The old Newfoundland dog at once manifested great displeasure on the pups making their appearance. When either of the juveniles have petted or played with them he has growled and looked as savage and morose as could be, and he has become an altogether changed animal since their coming. Last evening, while they were being caressed and fondled by the juveniles, the jealous old Newfoundland, with a ferocious glare in his eye, seized the head of one of them in his mouth and crushed the life out of it in a moment. On relating the circumstance this morning to a gentleman who has had much experience with Newfoundlands, I was surprised to be informed that of all breeds of dogs, they are the most treacherous and jealous. They can never bear to see any other dog receive attentions, and will take a most bitter dislike to the bestower or recipient of such attention, and cherish their dislike for a long period. At the same time they combine with this treachery and jealousy many splendid qualities. A friend tells me that a cat which has been a great favorite with his children, and played with them constantly, suddenly refused to have anything more to do with them when he introduced a terrier into the house a few days ago. Now on coming home at night, the cat flies at the dog the moment the door is opened, and having endeavored to scratch or bite it, skulks away and remains out of sight all the evening.

The Wages of the Prince of Wales.

There is a plan on foot to apply to Parliament to double the wages of the Prince of Wales. The British tax-payer contributes at present the pretty sum of £50,000 a year to the maintenance of his king that is to be. What are called the private revenues of the prince amount to another £50,000, and his actual cash income is a round [illegible] yearly. On the pretense that it is desirable that his royal highness should set up an establishment in Ireland, Parliament is to be asked to give him another £50,000 a year. A respectable public sentiment in favor of the gift has already been created. Perhaps Parliament might divert the revenues of the Irish church, presently to be disendowed, to this pious use. Meanwhile, to convince the nation that he is in want of money, the prince has bought a house in Pall Mall for £18,000, which he is going to turn into a club. There is no want of clubs in London—the number is forty-five, I believe, but the unfilled want which the prince desires to supply is a bowling club, and alleys are to be built on the American plan. To this new circle no member will be admitted except on invitation. The number will be 350, entrance, 100 guineas. Yearly subscriptions 20 guineas. As the prince is said to owe to a great variety of creditors more pounds than he yearly receives, and as he can only have bought this club house in the sense of promising to pay for it, there is every reason why Parliament should come promptly to the rescue of his distressed finances. What is the use of being a prince if you can't have your debts paid by the public?—Letter from England.

It is very gratifying to say—what one could not have said for several years past—that the crops throughout France seem to give unusually fine promise. The fine weather which succeeded the cold of April, and the recent warm and refreshing rains, have given an excellent start to the cereals; and as there is no fear of a frost so late in the season as this, the hopes of the husbandman are high. Everything is of a rich green, and the spring sowing has everywhere come up well. The fruit trees are in very heavy blossom—more so than I have ever before seen in France. For several years fruit has been scant and dear, and to the poor a full season will be a very great boon. Wheat is especially promising, and plums and pears. The vines also look well; those who are learned in this crop, and pretend to predict the quality as well as quantity of the grapes from observing how they appear in the late spring, say that unless there is a mishap in the temperature, the wine of 1868 will take a high place among the brands, especially in Northern Burgundy and along the left bank of the Gironde.

The town of Reno, on the Central Pacific Railroad, only laid out on the first of the month, now contains one hundred houses and five hundred people.

PRESBYTERIANISM.

O. S. ASSEMBLY AT ALBANY.

Appeal of Rev. Alexander Cowan.

ALBANY, June 1.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly, Old School, George Judkin, of Philadelphia, moved the Presbyteries require of the candidates for the ministry ability to recite the short catechism of the church, and that such be prerequisite for a diploma from seminaries, which was tabled for future action.

Names were reported for delegates to corresponding ecclesiastical bodies. The election occurs to-morrow.

A motion to postpone until another year the election of a Professor to the vacant chair in the Chicago Seminary was twice rejected by votes of 81 to 85 and 90 to 93.

The appeal of Rev. Alex. Cowan, of Kentucky, from the decision of Ohio Presbytery, is being heard by the Assembly as a court of last resort. The appellant had refused to recant the assertions made in the declaration and testimony signed by him. He claims the right to be first tried by inferior courts. He also claims that the Assembly had no right to take the action it did in 1861 and 1862 in reference to the rebellion, as a counter blast to which the declaration, &c., was issued.

In the Presbyterian Assembly this afternoon, Rev. Dr. Hall offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Assembly hereby desire distinctly to be understood that the first article of the report of the Joint Reunion Committee, which is the doctrinal bases of union adopted on Friday evening last by this assembly, is not to be interpreted as giving license to the propagation of doctrines which have been condemned by either assembly, nor to permit any presbytery in the United States to license or ordain to the work of the ministry any candidate who maintains any form of doctrine condemned by either assembly.

Rev. Dr. Humphrey read the protest of the minority, signed by fifty-two members, against the action of the Assembly in the adoption of the basis of union.

Rev. Dr. Marfort moved that the Moderator appoint a committee of five to draw up a reply thereto, which was agreed to. The Chair appointed Drs. Spedd, Morfort and Prime, Judge Levitt and Elder McKnight.

On motion of Dr. Backus, information in regard to these protests was ordered telegraphed to Harrisburg.

REMARKABLE SWINDLING DODGE.

An Englishman Personates a Young Lady in Distress, and Victimizes Many Susceptible Gentlemen.

An Englishman, aged about fifty-five years, named Wm. R. Emerson, was arrested in Boston, a few days ago, on a charge of swindling various persons throughout the country. His plan was to obtain the name of some prominent citizen or officer, and address him a letter, purporting to have been written by a young lady, who had departed from the right way and was anxious to reform. He assumed as many names as suited his fancy, such as "Fanny Caldwell," "Eva Ellis," "Kate Farran," etc. The names of parties addressed were generally selected from the newspapers of the day, political almanacs, city directories, etc. Congressmen and Government officers at Washington, as well as prominent gentlemen from Maine to Louisiana, were addressed and solicited for aid. The principal letters found upon Emerson had been written by parties residing in New York, New England, Pennsylvania, Washington City, Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Louisiana. In this State, he had victimized citizens of Philadelphia, Williamsport, West Chester, Greensburg and Mifflinsburg. He had in his possession about fifty letters, and some of the writers had sent money to the "poor girl" ranging in sums from one dollar up to one hundred dollars. B. C. Mann, of New Orleans, sent the latter sum to his "darling Kate." All of the correspondents were not so generous, however—some of them sending nothing, and telling her she was a humbug. Gentlemen with families volunteered to do all in their power to assist her in carrying out her good intentions to reform, and gave her directions to put up at this or that hotel on her arrival in the city, and notify them where an interview could be had. In writing these letters, the "distressed girl" generally represented that she wanted enough money to take her to the city where the party whom she addressed was living. A Congressman from Maryland received a note from this siren, representing to him that her father had died in Paris, leaving her "unprotected in that gay, licentious capital;" that she returned to the States, and had since then been living on the proceeds derived from the sale of her jewels and other valuables. She claimed that she had been introduced to the Congressman, some years ago, and she remembered him calling her a "beautiful girl." The following is the concluding portion of the letter:

> Write to me, and oh! say may I come to you. I speak French, Italian, German, and play on the piano and harp. Surely, with a little generous assistance and a hopeful confidence, I might be enabled to help myself so as not to be a burden to my kind friend. Write to me, do, and send me a small sum (enclosed), for I am in immediate want, and oh, I will be very grateful. Then afterward if you desire I will hasten to you on the wings of gratitude and affection. Write to me, I pray, for I am in abject want. Oh in mercy be my friend, and I will bless you. The poor orphan friendless girl will be very, very grateful. In kindness remember me as I was. In pity as I am. I shall anxiously and hopefully await your reply. Need I add a word? Write to me, oh do.

Some of the letters contained much good advice, but no money. One old gentleman told her that he had long ago ceased to contribute anything to "young ladies who traveled on their muscle." A "gushing" youth in West Chester, Pennsylvania, had quite an extensive correspondence with her, and had sent ten, twenty and thirty dollars to her at different times. The following is an extract from one of his epistles:

> MY DEAREST ANGEL: Your dear, sweet letter of the 18th I received this A. M., and hasten to reply. Oh! how I was disappointed, for I anticipated the pleasure of meeting you in person yesterday. I went to town and inquired for you, but you had not arrived. I look forward to our meeting joyously. I am so glad I was the means of helping you, dearest, and that I have relieved you of the embarrassment alluded to. Oh! it must be awful to be among those who are not congenial to one's self, and I think you do have a kind, loving heart, and you seem to have no one to love you or to care for. May I hope I may supply that void in your bosom, and be your idol. Oh! I feel that I could fly to you were it possible; my whole being goes toward you in sympathy and love. Oh! I might say much more, but will defer it until we meet, my little darling, for I seem to feel that you reciprocate my sentiments.

This youth will doubtless feel chagrined on learning that his greenbacks have been pocketed by a burly old English rascal, with a jolly red face, bull-neck, and capacious stomach, which give ample evidence that he has lived well on his wits. There is no law in Massachusetts under which he can be punished for his frauds, and he will have to be discharged.

A Strange Case.

One of those curious cases in real life, which are stranger than the strangest fiction, has recently been revealed in New York city through legal proceedings in the Supreme Court. Many years ago a wealthy merchant named Humphreys married a poor girl, and had by her two sons and one daughter. The sons grew up and became lunatics; the daughter married, had children, and is now dead. Twenty-four years ago the merchant died, and his widow administered on the estate, managing it, it is charged, in such a way as to get most of the property, amounting in all to over $100,000, into her own hands. Recently the widow died, leaving the bulk of the property by will to a child of the deceased daughter. On behalf of the lunatics it is now contended that the will is inoperative, because the property really belonged, not to the widow, their mother, but their father, and should go to them. Whatever the facts may be, it cannot be denied that the case, as it is presented, would make excellent material for a novelist. Here was a woman, with her two sons kept in the lunatic asylum for years, dealing with their property as if it were her own, and finally giving it all to a favorite grandchild.

A LETTER from Cheyenne, Dacotah Territory, gives the following brief, yet sufficiently explicit description of what is known as the "Bad Land:" "In a space running, say on an average of 100 miles wide, there is a plain or valley, where no vegetation grows, and no water runs save one or two streams so impregnated with alkali that either man or beast will die if so foolish as to attempt to slake their thirst in it. It is supposed to have been wasted by powerful volcanic action. It is full of petrified animals, turtles of every size; serpents of great length, shells are found petrified which vie in colors with those found on the Sandwich Islands. Shafts of sandstone many feet high, and boulders, supported by a narrow pedestal, are among the wonders which greet the eye upon the entrance to this wonderful section, never explored, and but once crossed in a forced march, many years ago, by General Sully, who started with a few soldiers, carrying hardly enough water in their small vessels for man and beast. They lost a large portion of their horses. The Indians even do not penetrate it, except for a little way when hard pushed by their enemy."

THE official records of the Department of State show the following facts in regard to crime in Texas: For the year 1867, reports from seventeen counties show—Murders, 172; assaults with intent to kill, 225. Reports from the Clerks of the District Courts, from fifty-eight counties, show that the following number of indictments were found in those counties from June 1, 1865, to January 1, 1868: Murders, 412; assaults with intent to kill, 437. From December 1, 1867, to May 1, 1868, four months (since the issuing of General Hancock's order No. 40), there have been, in fifty-three counties: Murders, 187; assaults with intent to kill, 113.

SECOND EDITION.

4 O'CLOCK, A. M.

OUR CANDIDATES.

THEIR FORMAL ACCEPTANCE.

Letters of Grant and Colfax.

THE PLATFORM FULLY INDORSED.

WASHINGTON, June 1, 1868.

GENERAL GRANT'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29, 1868.

Gen. Jos. R. Hawley, President National Union Republican Convention:

In formally accepting the nomination of the National Union Republican Convention of the 21st of May inst., it seems proper that some statement of my views beyond the mere acceptance of the nomination should be expressed. The proceedings of the Convention were marked with wisdom, moderation and patriotism, and I believe express the feelings of the great mass of those who sustained the country through its trial. I indorse their resolutions. If elected to the office of President of the United States, it will be my endeavor to administer all the laws in good faith, with economy, and with the view of giving peace, quiet and protection everywhere. In times like the present it is impossible or at least eminently improper to lay down a policy to be adhered to, right or wrong through an administration of four years. New political issues not foreseen are constantly arising; the views of the public on old ones are constantly changing, and a purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people. I have always respected that will, and always shall. Peace and universal prosperity, its sequence, with economy of administration, will lighten the burden of taxation, while it constantly reduces the national debt. Let us have peace. With great respect, your obedient servant,

U. S. GRANT.

SPEAKER COLFAX'S REPLY.

The following is the reply of Speaker Colfax to the committee announcing his nomination by the Chicago Convention:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30, 1868.

Hon. J. R. Hawley, President of the National Union Republican Convention:

DEAR SIR:—The platform adopted by the patriotic convention over which you presided, and the resolutions which so happily supplement it, so entirely agree with my views as to a just National policy, that my thanks are due to the delegates as much for this clear and auspicious declaration of principles, as for the nomination with which I have been honored, and which I gratefully accept. When the great rebellion which imperilled the national existence was at last overthrown, the duty of all others devolving on those entrusted with the responsibilities of legislation evidently was to require that the revolted states should be readmitted to participation in the Government against which they had erred, only on such a basis as to increase and fortify, not to weaken or endanger, the strength and power of the nation. Certainly no one ought to have claimed that they should be readmitted under such rule that their organization as States could ever again be used, as at the opening of the war, to defy the national authority or to destroy the national unity. This principle has been the pole star of those who have inflexibly insisted on the Congressional policy your Convention so cordially indorsed. Baffled by executive opposition and by persistent refusals to accept any plan of reconstruction proffered by Congress, justice and the public safety at last combined to teach us that only by an enlargement of suffrage in those States could the desired end be attained, and that it was even more safe to give the ballot to those who loved the Union than to those who had sought ineffectually to destroy it. The assured success of this legislation is being written on the adamant of history, and will be our triumphant vindication. More clearly, too, than ever before does the nation now recognize that the greatest glory of a republic is that it throws the shield of its protection over the humblest and weakest of its people, and vindicates the rights of the poor and the powerless as faithfully as those of the rich and powerful.

I rejoice, in this connection, to find in your platform the frank and fearless avowal that naturalized citizens must be protected abroad at every hazard as though they were native born. Our whole people are foreigners or descendants of foreigners; our fathers established by arms their right to be called a nation; it remains for us to establish the right and welcome to our shores all who are willing by oaths of allegiance to become American citizens. Perpetual allegiance, as claimed abroad, is only another name for perpetual bondage, and would make all slaves to the soil where first they saw the light. Our national cemeteries prove how faithfully these oaths of fidelity to the adopted land have been sealed in the life-blood of thousands upon thousands. Should we not, then, be faithless to the dead if we did not protect their living brethren in the full enjoyment of that nationality for which, side by side with the native-born, our soldiers of foreign birth laid down their lives?

It was fitting, too, that the representatives of a party which had proved so true to national duty in time of war, should speak so clearly in time of peace for the maintenance untarnished of the national honor, national credit and good faith as regards its debt, the cost of our national existence. I do not need to extend this reply by further comment on a platform which has elicited such hearty approval throughout the land. The debt of gratitude it acknowledges to the brave men who saved the Union from destruction, the frank approval of amnesty based on repentance and loyalty, the demand for the most rigid economy and honesty in the government, the sympathy of the party of liberty with all throughout the world who long for the liberty we here enjoy, and the recognition of the sublime principles of the Declaration of Independence, are worthy of the organization on whose banners they are to be written in the coming contest.

Its past record cannot be blotted out or forgotten. If there had been no Republican party, slavery would to-day cast its baleful shadow over the Republic. If there had been no Republican party, free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac to the Rio Grande as ten years ago. If the Republican party could have been stricken from existence when the banner of rebellion was unfurled, and when the response of "no coercion" was heard at the North, we would have had no nation to-day. But for the Republican party daring to risk the odium of tax and draft laws, our flag could not have been kept flying in the field until the long hoped for victory came. Without a Republican party, the civil rights bills, the guarantee of equality under the law to the humble and the defenseless, as well as to the strong, would not be to-day upon our national statute book. With such inspiration from the past, and following the example of the founders of the republic, who called the victorious General of the revolution to preside over the land his triumphs had saved from its enemies, I cannot doubt that our labors will be crowned with success; and it will be a success that shall bring restored hope, confidence, prosperity and progress, South as well as North, West as well as East, and above all the blessings under Providence of national concord and peace.

Very truly, yours,

[Signed] SCHUYLER COLFAX.

METHODISM.

GENERAL CONFERENCE AT CHICAGO.

Next Session at Brooklyn, N. Y.

Organization of New Conferences.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, twenty-sixth day, Bishop Scott presided. The Committee on Book Concerns reported an act of incorporation of the Western Book Concern, which was adopted.

Brooklyn, N. Y., was selected as the seat of the next General Conference. The morning hour was devoted to the settlement of boundary lines.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Bishop Simpson presided. The report of the Committee on Boundaries, after two days consideration and discussion, was adopted.

Rev. Dr. Bingham entered a written protest against the dismemberment of the Black River Conference.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the Bishop who may preside at the next session of Kentucky Conference to organize the colored preachers and people into a separate Conference if they desire it. The Bishops were also authorized to organize Conferences in China, South America and Northern Europe at their discretion, in the interval of the General Conference.

A resolution was adopted providing for the organization of a Board of Trustees at Cincinnati to receive and hold all bequests made to the Methodist Episcopal Church, said board to consist of six ministers and six laymen. The following persons were then elected Trustees: Ministers—D. W. Clark, F. C. Holliday, J. M. Trimble, L. Hitchcock, W. H. Goode, W. Young. Laymen—S. Cochnower, E. Sargent, A. Shinkle, H. Decamp, M. B. Hagans and A. N. Riddle.

The Committee on Missions recommended that Sunday, April 6th, 1869, the semi-centennial anniversary of the Missionary Society, be observed as a missionary jubilee in behalf of the erection of a mission house at New York.

The following ministers were elected the Book Committee for the next four years: G. W. Woodruff, C. S. Vancleave, H. Slicer, J. S. Bingham, J. Ewell, G. W. Maltby, J. F. Kennedy, B. F. Rawlins, F. A. Blades, H. Bannister, C. Brooks, L. W. Vernon, J. H. Morand, J. Roethwiler.

STATE POLITICS.

The Republicans of Fayette county will hold a meeting in Uniontown, on Monday evening, to ratify the nominations of Grant and Colfax.

G. W. K. Minor, Esq., has withdrawn from the contest for Congress in Fayette county. Twenty-first District. Jasper M. Thompson, Esq., of Fayette, is the only opponent of Hon. John Covode for the nomination.

Fires on Michigan Peninsula.

A letter from Marquette, upper peninsula of Michigan, says terrible fires are raging in that vicinity. For the past few days previous to the date of the letter, they had raged fearfully, compelling the population to turn out and stand guard. Several small places in the vicinity had been compelled to send to Marquette for assistance. At Cascade a large boarding house, with contents, and several other buildings, had been burned.

The village of Ihpening had also suffered severely. The letter says that if rain does not come soon the whole country will burn up. Like fires have also been prevailing on the peninsula between Lake Michigan and Green Bay, Door county, burning dwellings, farmer's wood, numbers of fields of newly sown grain, fences, &c. The loss is very heavy.

At a small town called Lincoln, near Pocahontas, Arkansas, which was settled by freedmen, a negro named Cochrane was detected a few days since by another named Wm. Babcock, in illicit intercourse with his wife, and attacked him. Cochrane killed Babcock in the encounter, and immediately took up with Babcock's wife, who had four children. Next day all the children were found in a swamp with their throats cut. Ike Martin saw the deed, but, from fear of Cochrane, said nothing for several days, but finally went to Port Chapontas and informed the authorities, who have laid the matter before the military authorities. Cochrane is not yet arrested.

STATE NEWS.

A quarry of beautiful variegated marble has been discovered in the northern part of Berks county.

A shaft is being sunk on the farm of John Cope, East Bradford, Chester county, in search of gold.

The published statement of the Mercantile Appraiser of Montgomery county estimates the whole number of dealers in foreign and domestic merchandise in the county at six hundred and seventy-three.

Rev. E. B. Wilson of the (German) Reformed Church of Columbia county, Pa., while on a visit to a married daughter, Mrs. Jacob Beamer and family, in Menallen township, died very suddenly on Sunday morning of last week. He retired to bed in his usual health, but was found in the morning lifeless though warm. Dr. Brenneman, who was called in pronounced the case one of apoplexy. The deceased leaves a wife and children, and was in his fiftieth year.

The Juniata Register says: Peter Graybill, formerly of Juniata county, now about fifty-three years of age, has fallen heir, by the death of a relative, to considerable property. It is not known whether he is living or dead. He left the county when a young man, since which time nothing has been heard of him until about five years ago, when he was living in Pottsville.

A petition has been forwarded from his constituents to Hon. John M. Broomall, asking Congress to recall the currency having upon it the faces of S. P. Chase and W. P. Fessender, and to forbid its further issue, (until the faces of these played out individuals be removed therefrom,) the same being particularly offensive to all good Republicans and the public generally.

The Legislature—A Suggestion.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Agreeing with your correspondent "North Side" that we want able and faithful men in the Legislature the coming winter, I would suggest the name of THOMAS HOWARD, Esq., as a suitable candidate for the responsible office of legislator. I do this at the suggestion of a number of Mr. Howard's friends, and entirely without his knowledge. We believe he would make a most valuable member of the Legislature, his well-known intelligence and large legal experience peculiarly fitting him for the position. We present his name to the County Convention, confident that our suggestion will meet with the high consideration it deserves.

SIXTH WARD.

Across the Ocean.

Parties contemplating a trip across the ocean should not forget that there exists in this city an office where passage by nearly all of the most popular ocean steamship lines can be secured at the lowest rates charged at the principal offices in New York, and where plans of the vessels are kept, berths allotted, and every information given to travelers. We allude to the agency of Mr. William Bingham, Jr., located at No. 70 Fifth street (Chronicle building). Mr. Bingham has had several years experience in his business, is thoroughly posted on all steamship matters, and from our knowledge of the gentleman we are satisfied those who call on him will be well waited on. Such an agency as Mr. B. has established is a necessity and parties who intend making the trip should give him every encouragement by purchasing tickets at home instead of sending to New York.

No Summer Vacations.

It will doubtless interest many of our readers to know that the Iron City College is in continued session throughout the year without vacations of any kind, thus permitting students to enter at any time and complete a course of study at their convenience. Circulars embracing full particulars concerning the college, course of study, necessary expenses, &c., can be obtained by addressing the Principals, Smith & Cowley, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Another Testimonial of Skill.

I have been troubled with a very severe pain in the stomach. I have tried nearly everything I heard of, but could not get permanent relief, but since I began Dr. Aborn's medicine I feel nearly as well as ever. I have not felt so well for years. I have gained very much in flesh, at least ten pounds within one month.

The Daily Commercial

TUESDAY, JUNE 2, 1868.

THE COMMERCIAL is the largest daily paper in the State, and gives daily one-fourth more reading than any other paper in Pittsburgh. It is the only Pittsburgh paper that uses the telegraph liberally, gives full market reports, and all the news of the day.

As proof of the estimate placed on the market reports of the COMMERCIAL, we will state that they are regularly copied by the New York Economist, Shipping List, Iron Age, and other papers of that character in this and other cities, and that leading English commercial papers and circulars regularly reprint them with credit. There is not within five hundred miles, hardly an Iron Factory, Oil Refinery, or leading manufactory of any kind that is not a subscriber to the COMMERCIAL, principally, because its reports are the only full and reliable given of the Pittsburgh markets.

THE House of Representatives Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads have agreed unanimously to report a bill providing for a uniform system of bridges for the Ohio river with five hundred feet spans. This is a great victory for the navigation interest.

THE Beaver County Republicans yesterday nominated a strong ticket. They renominated their faithful Representative, Hon. THOMAS NICHOLSON, and declared for M. WEYAND, Esq., for Congress. Resolutions were adopted indorsing GRANT, COLFAX, and the National Union Republican platform, and instructing their Representatives in the Legislature to support the project for the enlargement of the Erie canal.

the light of day—all going to show the power of a corporation whose monthly income is two million dollars. It will be time enough hereafter to speak more at length in this regard. Meanwhile, although the agreement has been virtually made, it has not been signed. Designs as well progressed as this is, have before now failed through the refusal of men, more honest than the originators, to ruin themselves to accomplish them. The Central is an imperious master. It permits no backward step in any course it has chosen to pursue. But it remains to be seen whether it can command the co-operation of Pittsburghers to the extent necessary to the accomplishment of this desperate scheme.

"VETERAN OBSERVER" says he has seen political conventions for thirty years, but has "never known one to be conducted so wisely and prudently as the Republican Convention at Chicago [illegible]." The writer might have added, that no Convention has assembled in many years in which so few professional politicians and mere party leaders were present, endeavoring to control its action. At first some were disposed to regard it not as a strong convention on this account, and apprehended unfavorable consequences. But a closer view disclosed the fact that what at first was regarded as evidence of weakness, was the chief strength of the Convention. The delegates were free to speak and act without restraint, in response to the wishes of those who sent them. It sometimes happens that a Convention is cheated into a course quite at variance with its judgment. A few energetic leaders are not unfrequently influential to this extent. But it was not so at Chicago. The average sense of the Republican masses [illegible]

FROM CHICAGO.

M. E. General Conference—Lay Delegation—Final Action.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

CHICAGO, May 29, 1868.

The measure which has so long been agitated in the M. E. Church received to-day the final action of the General Conference, and now goes to the people and the Annual Conferences. This is as we anticipated in our former letter. It will be remembered that the majority of the lay delegation reported in favor of admitting to both General and Annual Conferences without any vote of the people, but by a simple majority of the General Conference itself. The minority reported in favor of submitting the naked question "for" or "against" lay delegation to a vote of the people. For these a substitute was offered, proposing to submit the plan reported by the majority and the whole question to a vote of the people, and the discussion was on these three propositions. At the close of his speech, Dr. D. Curry, who was opposed to the shape which the matter had assumed, proposed a new committee be raised composed of men representing, as nearly as possible, every shade of opinion in the Conference, to whom the subject should be referred with the design of reconciling all parties by reporting back a compromise measure. This was agreed to, and E. O. Haven, J. B. Dobbins, J. McClintock, W. H. Hunter, D. Curry, R. S. Foster, S. M. Merrill, E. R. Fuller and C. Munger were appointed as the committee. The report which they presented, amended simply by striking out the word "male" in the first resolution, so that both male and female members should be entitled to vote, was adopted item by item by a count vote, and then as a whole by yeas and nays—three persons only voting in the negative. This final action is as follows:

"WHEREAS, The General Conference of 1860 expressed its willingness to admit lay delegates to the General Conference whenever the people should desire it; and, [illegible]

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty-thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—THE GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. THE GOVERNMENT PERMITS the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which over Eight Million Dollars have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through business that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, are secure beyond any contingency.

The Company have abundant means in their treasury, and make no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that, for entire security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT.,

AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT THEY MAY SOON BE AT A PREMIUM.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

And in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street,
AND BY
John J. Cisco & Son, Bankers, No. 59 Wall street,

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means of Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices or to any of the advertised Agents.

[illegible] YORK AND PARIS FASHIONS.

FOR JUNE.

(From our Fashion Correspondent.)

New York, May, 1868.

[illegible] to me the world would lose a great [illegible] of its attraction if there were no pretty [illegible] in it and no pretty dresses. "How [illegible] do you suppose that cost?" said a gentle[illegible] the other evening, regarding a magnifi[illegible] embroidered robe worn by a lady near [illegible] with admiring eyes.

Well, I should not mind that sum for a [illegible] like that for my wife, if I had one," said [illegible] "I should like to have my wife wear a dress [illegible] that."

[illegible] sympathized with him. Next to being able [illegible] pretty things oneself, a proprietary in[illegible] in some one who can wear them would, [illegible] think, be gratifying.

[illegible] come at last. It has been expected that [illegible] would come to that for some time, and [illegible] the substitute made of a few yards of [illegible] ribbon, with lace or fringe edge, looks [illegible] as much like a bonnet when it is on the [illegible] as the bits of straw and lace that come [illegible] the proper name.

[illegible] "Loo," as the new style is called, con[illegible] of ten double loops of narrow ribbon, five [illegible] band, mounted on a strip of foundation [illegible] an inch in width, covered with silk, the [illegible] color as the ribbon. This makes two [illegible] of five loops each, which are fastened to [illegible] ribbon sufficient to pass round the [illegible] and tie under the hair behind. [illegible]

[illegible] can be bought ready made at a fashionable house, for four and a half dollars each.

[illegible] in the same way are made in white pique, and trimmed with white or colored braid, for nine to twelve dollars, and in unbleached linen, trimmed with white braid (several rows) for nine dollars. These prices are scarcely in advance of the cost of the material and making. [illegible]

[illegible]

The waist is finished with a belt.

Persons who expect to make a fortune by keeping summer hotels had better go into some other business, for if the seasons keep changing in the same way and with such rapidity as they have for the past ten years, we shall soon have no summer worth speaking of, as we have now no spring in these northern latitudes. The chilly, damp weather which continued nearly through May postpones indefinitely all idea of going into the country or of making summer trips, and is equally discouraging to business of all kinds. The only things that appear to flourish generously are weddings, and as clothing, house-furnishings and the like, have fallen to figures approximated since before the war, it is probably as good a time as any to commence co-operative movements.

A great deal is said of white satin and lace, splendid trousseaus, and one evening dress that cost two thousand five hundred dollars, of another which is a mere bagatelle, and the only duplicate of which is owned by the Empress of Austria; of a set of diamonds worth thirty thousand dollars presented to one bride upon her wedding day, and of an immense establishment chartered for a month to prepare the outward [illegible]. But it is all vanity and vexation of spirit. I am tired of weddings and sick of hearing about bridal trousseaus. With sewing machines, and plenty of leisure, why cannot girls make their own trousseaus, and save the money for future contingencies? "Poor things!" they often need it badly enough. It is sad to think how much care and pains, and labor, and money, are expended on an event which not unfrequently ends in a lifetime of misery. Relatives and friends vie with each other in piling up gifts and gew-gaws, and then "wash their hands" of all responsibility forever and ever. Out of the stock of frippery the poor little fool drags scarce after her wedding day, scarcely an article of practical value, not one that proves of substantial service, and not unfrequently she looks her bridal gifts and wardrobe in her trunks, and spends her small stock of pocket money upon articles that she needs.

Dry goods of every description and even made up garments which usually bring very high prices, are all at the present time comparatively low. Excellent drillings, satin, jeans, [illegible], fine figures and marseilles, which cost from one to two dollars per yard to import, are selling from fifty cents to one dollar and a quarter per yard.

Poplins, which sold at the beginning of the season for a dollar and a quarter, are now selling for seventy-five cents per yard, and stocks of mixed spring fabrics cannot be got rid of at any price. A rich suit of black Antwerp silk piped with rod satin, train two yards long, valued six weeks ago at three hundred and fifty dollars, is now reduced to two hundred. A walking suit of black silk trimmed with satin and lace, formerly one hundred and sixty-five dollars, now one hundred and twenty-five. Other suits in mixed fabrics, beautifully made and elegantly trimmed, at from twenty-five to fifty dollars, formerly from forty to seventy. Walking suits now can be bought in many houses at less price than they could be made by a fashionable dressmaker, but it is a great point to know where to go to get them; and we have not yet any known house where, at uniformly reasonable prices, a family can be fitted out with just such a thing as they need.

The want is becoming more pressing, however, and there are establishments that are making up to it, the memory of business is to concentrate itself in fewer hands and in larger streams, and those who first fulfill the great requirements for ladies' and children's ready made clothing of all styles at prices a little over the cost of material and labor, will secure the largest share of fame and profit.

White and light silks are used for elegant parasols this season, either covered with black lace or embroidered in colors, the Breton or Algerine designs. Fooling has not gone out altogether, but it is not so fashionable as it was. Black silk parasols, instead of beading or jet embroidery, are ornamented with narrow ruffles notched out upon the edge and scalloped. Parasols for little girls are also trimmed in this way, and are commonly made of light small checks, silk trimmed, with very narrow ruffles in the contrasting color. In lace colors "the feed" is the latest style—it is very narrow at the back and in front, but describes deep points upon the shoulders—it is quite taking the place of the "Shakespeare" which has been in vogue so long. The veils tied behind with tabs have given place to the hand embroidered face veils which fasten on with an elastic over the top of the bonnet and reach to the chin, the top of the veil is rounded by the edge, down a little and the lower edge is cut straight. The mask veils have had no success. Across the bonnet were all the rage I am glad to say, I always liked them, they are so pretty and becoming. For morning wear they are made of linen trimmed with braid. For afternoon full dress they are dainty and charming on clean white muslin with little pockets trimmed with Valenciennes lace and blue ribbon.

Ladies who live in the country and work in the garden wear long linen aprons with bibs and sleeves reaching up over the elbows to match. This preserves a pretty morning dress intact and is so nice which will apply to the kitchen as usefully as to the garden.

Black is not considered absent full dress for gentlemen. The regulation costume consists of cream-colored trousers, military blue frock coat lined with white silk and engraved gold buttons, the latter displaying the arms or monogram of the wearer, and imparting to the entire dress the appearance of a livery! Will American gentlemen adopt it?

[illegible] seen the most fashionable of [illegible]. They have almost superseded [illegible]. Some are rich with the leaves of the [illegible], others are loaded with ivy, and still [illegible] shine with a brilliant metallic green. [illegible] newest and prettiest, however, are the [illegible] and flowers of mother of pearl, which in [illegible] natural tints compose exquisite ornaments. [illegible] most elegant bonnets for visiting are now [illegible] of lace, embroidered by hand with colored [illegible] edging and leaves of mother of pearl [illegible] to match. Sometimes an aigrette of mother [illegible] pearl is stylishly placed high on one side of [illegible] front. The newest and most distinguished [illegible] hats bear a striking resemblance to the [illegible] worn by Marie Antoinette. The [illegible] is not quite so high, nor the brim so [illegible], but otherwise it is Marie, the same in [illegible] and in the coquetry of its somewhat [illegible] form.

[illegible] round hats of Marseilles or corsets, [illegible] corded, others pointed or scolloped around [illegible] edge, have been adopted by many ladies for [illegible] purposes for youth just because they [illegible] the "dress up," and are injuriously affected [illegible] accident of weather. In this respect [illegible] have the advantage of white muslin bon[illegible], although the latter while fresh are more be[illegible]. Round hats of Marseilles can be [illegible] at ladies' furnishing establishments, [illegible] cost from three to five dollars each.

[illegible] several times, is the distinctive [illegible] in a stylish costume. It is certainly the [illegible] exclusive test of fashion that ever was in[illegible]. Everybody now-a-days has diamonds, [illegible] has lace shawls and laces; every[illegible] can have at least one train, but costume [illegible] in one color and not in one color only [illegible] shades of one color requires not only money [illegible] genius, patience, judgment, artistic taste [illegible] the habit of elegance and refinement. It [illegible] common upon any of our fashionable thor[illegible] to see suits complete and even suits [illegible] bonnets to match, but it is still more to [illegible] complete costumes in one color, and when [illegible] seen the striking effect naturally attracts [illegible] deal of attention. But, although shy of [illegible] down Broadway in them as yet, many [illegible] wear very beautiful complete costumes [illegible] visiting and reception, and a little descrip[illegible] of several seen lately will serve to indicate [illegible] general style. The first was blue silk with [illegible] upon the skirt, and sack of pointed [illegible] velvet and blue crimped tasseled fringe. [illegible] lace hat, blue boots, blue parasol, and [illegible] with fringe, and blue gloves. The [illegible] white visible upon the whole person con[illegible] of the handkerchief and cuffs fastened [illegible] turquoise buttons.

Another was a very elegant costume of rich [illegible] grey silk, the skirt was bordered with [illegible] narrow pinked out flounces, and the sash, [illegible] basque and the back of the waist, and the [illegible] cross-over Marie Antoinette fichu were [illegible] to match. The bonnet was of grey [illegible], trimmed with blonde of the same shade [illegible] a wreath of grey mother of pearl leaves, [illegible] crossed the front, and descended to the [illegible] in a Cordon, upon the scarf ends of [illegible] which formed ornamental strings in [illegible]. The parasol was of pearl grey silk [illegible] with narrow ruffles pinked. The [illegible] of pearl grey suede silk fastened with [illegible] of pearl buttons, the gloves exactly [illegible] the dress.

The third was in pale buff, the material of [illegible] dress French Challie, trimmed with cross [illegible] folds of buff silk, piped with satin of the [illegible] shade. The upper dress was cut with a [illegible] and looped to form "paniers" over the [illegible] skirt. The casque was short, loose cut [illegible] sleeves, and trimmed to match the dress. [illegible] boots were buff kid, the parasol of pongee [illegible], and the bonnet of a peculiar shade of buff [illegible], trimmed with straw colored blonde and a [illegible] aigrette, the spears of which were sur[illegible] with small gold knots. The effect [illegible] was scarcely so well preserved in this [illegible] as in some others, but there was no [illegible] difference, and the unity was remarka[illegible], considering the difficulty to obtain the [illegible] in certain shades.

Lavender is the color most commonly worn [illegible] complete costumes, but the most remarka[illegible] effect is certainly produced by the absence [illegible] of color. A lady the other day appeared [illegible] the streets in a costume all white, [illegible] white mohair, trimmed with pipings of [illegible] silk and white crimped fringe, white hat, [illegible] and white kid boots, white parasol and white [illegible]. The dress was really elegant, but one [illegible] not divest oneself of the idea of a bride [illegible] covered with flour, or a clown in a pantomime.

The new and pretty summer wraps are all in [illegible] burnous style. They are made in striped [illegible] and grenadines, the silk closed and richly [illegible] with tassels and heavy cord. There [illegible] also Algerian burnous, the stripes of [illegible] unbleached linen, alternating with stripes [illegible] Japanese unbleached silk, upon which are [illegible] small Arabic characters.

More dressy mantles are made of white grena[illegible], with mantilla backs, shawl fronts [illegible], which cross over, and long pointed [illegible]. They are trimmed with handsome [illegible] tassels and crimped tasseled fringe in [illegible] bright color.

The "Contessa," a variation of the Watteau [illegible], is a very graceful form, with lace [illegible], square tabs in front, trimmed with lace [illegible] fastened down under a bow, to which a [illegible] sash with bows are attached at the back. [illegible] of the sack are trimmed with lace. Waterproof cloaks are now made with a deep [illegible], instead of a hood, the cape caught up at [illegible] back with two rosettes, in the "Colleen [illegible]" style. Scotch tartan makes a more [illegible] traveling wrap than waterproof cloth, [illegible] is very becoming made in this style plaited [illegible] with rosettes of silk in the color of [illegible].

Several correspondents, some from distant [illegible] of the country, have written to know how [illegible] make calico dresses.

Morning wrappers, of which every lady needs [illegible] or two, are good plain, buttoned down the [illegible] trimmed with a narrow border, in a [illegible] pattern, or a plain cambric edged or [illegible] finished with two little pockets. Suit[illegible] wrappers at three all prices, in small patterns. [illegible]

They are thus enabled to turn out work of a superior character, at shortest notice. They manufacture all kinds of Plumbers' and gas fitters' goods, brass, lift and steam pumps, flanged gas pipe, with elbows, tees, sockets, balls and nuts complete, steam and vacuum gauges, valves, whistles, gong bells, spring balances and locomotive brass work. Every Violation

Of the laws of health invariably entails its own punishment, and the warnings administered by the faithful monitor (pain) cannot be neglected with impunity. If its admonitions were heeded, and the proper remedy immediately resorted to, a vast amount of suffering would be prevented, and dangerous diseases averted. When the head throbs, the lips become parched, and the cheek is burning—the warning is given; neglect is then dangerous. In the vast storehouse of nature may be found remedies for all the different maladies that afflict mankind, without resorting to pernicious minerals. The best of these medicinal agents have been incorporated in the preparation known as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and offered as a safe remedy to those suffering from the various forms of fever. This medicine has steadily and surely won its way into the confidence of the public, and has received the warmest encomiums from the press and people throughout the Union. As a valuable tonic for the cure of Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Constipation, and general nervous debility, it cannot be approached. Every day, new cases of its great effect are chronicled through our public journals. There is nothing equal to the enjoyment which the afflicted experience when using this valuable specific. Its mild tone, its sure and vigorous action upon a disordered stomach, and the cleansing of the entire human body, should recommend it to all classes of our community.

Similia Similibus Curantur.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS.

A true specific and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is only the outward manifestation. Hence, HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPTHALMY PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyes and eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefited, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time. Price 50 cents, with directions.

FAMILY CASES

Of 35 large vials, morocco case, containing a specific for every ordinary disease a family is subject to, and a book of directions, $10 00

Smaller FAMILY and TRAVELING cases, with 20 to 28 vials, from $5 to 8

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY EVENING, June 1, 1868.

The money market in the East is reported easier than it has been for many years. Call loans on government securities are made freely at from two to three per cent. In Pittsburgh, the banks are unable to extend any accommodations beyond the immediate and pressing wants of their customers. Already they are beginning to prepare for the July quarterly return, and, as they have at least two-thirds of their available means in government bonds, which from their enhanced value renders them so inviting an investment, our banks are really unable to afford that relief to the business community essential to its heathy operations and vigorous tone. Parties seeking loans are obliged to obtain their discounts on the outside market, at whatever rates they can bargain for. For this and other reasons, the rates paid for loans in our own market are higher than elsewhere, and merchants and manufacturers complain that the fault mainly rests with the banking institutions, which pursue a policy that virtually abstracts from business channels the currency necessary for its vital action.

—Government securities still continue strong and prices are advancing. The unsettled condition of political affairs in Europe and the enlargement of the franchise in Great Britain, are calculated to shake confidence in the national debts of European nations, and to cause investors to sell the bonds of the European Governments, and to buy those of the United States. The inducements are great to make the exchange, inasmuch as United States bonds are much cheaper than those of Europe, and pay about double the rate of interest. British consols paying three per cent. annual interest are selling at 96⅛@96¼, against the five-twenties six per cent. at 72¾ in London. The five-twenty bonds, nineteen years to run, compared with consols, are worth 142 21-100 in gold as an investment value. Quite an active movement on the part of foreign bankers has taken place in the five-twenties of 1867, which they are buying, with a view of placing them on the European market as soon as the loan is closed, by the conversion of the seven-thirties. Of all movements in our market for many years, the present one in government bonds as the time draws nigh at which the supply of them ceases, is the most noteworthy and withall most satisfactory to all who cherish the national credit and faith.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }
MONDAY EVENING, June 1, 1868. }

We have little or no change to notice in our general market to-day. Trade continues to move very sluggishly. There is more or less torpidity in nearly every branch of business throughout the country. Flour, bacon and groceries are in moderate request.

The receipts of leading articles of produce per river and rail since our last were as follows: Flour [illegible] bbls; apples 9 bbls; cheese 20 bxs; corn [illegible] sacks; wheat 25 sacks; barley 262 sacks; rye 372 sacks; oats 1,[illegible] sacks; and butter 21 packages.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale store prices unless otherwise noted:

APPLE BUTTER—There has been a good supply on the market, with sales reported at 80c@$1 00 ₱ gallon as to quality.

EGGS—At the present time the general run of hens are endeavoring to increase and multiply the stock of chickens, and hence are not disposed to furnish eggs for market. The consequence is that prices are advancing. The market is firm at 22c ₱ dozen; although sales are reported at 23c, 24c and one lot at 25c ₱ dozen.

DRIED APPLES—Are dull at 6½@7c ₱ lb. For extra prime small sales were made at 7½@7¾c.

GRAIN—The market for rye is less active, with but light receipts. Buyers from first hands are only offering $1 75, and small sales delivered at $1 85 ₱ bushel. On the wharf 75 sacks ear corn sold at 98c; 200 bushels shelled at $1 02, and several small lots in depot, to the trade, at $1 05 ₱ bushel. Oats are declining; sales on the wharf of 50 sacks at 80c; 40 do at 82c, and 2 cars from elevator at 80c ₱ bushel. The receipts of wheat are moderate, and we quote prime red winter at $2 55@2 60 ₱ bushel, and white wheat at $2 65@2 65 ₱ bushel.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }
TUESDAY, June 2, 1868. }

BUSINESS—The market yesterday seemed to take a fresh start—activity was the order of the day. The result was the sales reported yesterday were nearly equal to the entire sales of last week. Crude—Holders stand firm, refusing to give way, so that 10½c was the lowest figures that the raw material could be purchased for. The sales of refined were also heavy. Eastern dispatches furnish the following: Philadelphia—Prime light straw to white 26½c; standard white 27½@28c; crude, including packages, 17@17½c. New York—Prime light straw to white 28c; standard white 29c; crude, bulk, 12½@13c.

CRUDE OIL—The market opened with a fair degree of activity, holders refusing to make concessions in order to effect sales. We are reported the following sales, amounting to 8,100 bbls, as follows: 1,000 bbls bulk on present water, 10½c; 1,800 bbls bulk spot 10½c; 1,000 bbls do spot 10½c; 2,500 bbls do spot 10½c; 800 bbls do spot 10½c, and 1,000 bbls do at the same figure. The receipts were 13,580 bbls. The Oil City market was reported quiet. Holders were asking $3 90@4 00 ₱ bbl.

REFINED OIL—There was a good demand for oil. We are reported sales of 22,884 bbls, being the largest day's sales we have obtained for some time. The sales show a variety of prices for the same description of oil. We give the sales as they were reported to us. Sales 10,000 bbls Standard white, spot, Philadelphia, 30c. We can only say that we have good authority for the transaction, which is 1½c above the market. Sales 7,000 bbls spot, 28½c; sales 2,000 bbls, June delivery, 28½c; sales 2,500 bbls, last half of July 29c; sales 2,500 bbls, a line from August to December, inclusive, 500 bbls per month, at 3?c and one half cent per gallon a month advance. Sales 384 bbls, prime light straw to white, first half June, 27½c.

WOOL.

The New York Economist reports the market as still continuing very quiet, and little comparatively doing, yet under such an extremely dull time, prices are firm; at the same time there is a giving way, and dealers would to-day accept prices they would have scouted at a week or two ago, yet the decline is not so great as might be expected with such a light demand. The certainty that the clip will be later, and also the certainty that there will be a very wide difference between dealers and farmers, give confidence to holders that they need be in no haste to sell; consequently, prices have not declined so much as they would have done had the circumstances been a little different. A large portion of the wool on the eastern market is either owned wholly or in part by the dealers, and they do not find it so easy to let down the price of the article they own as when it is the property of others.

Manufacturers are also in very light stock, and although they all assert that they have enough to carry them over to another season, yet they are looking round every few days and picking lots where there is a slight disposition on the part of dealers to give way; and notwithstanding their assertions to the contrary, there is a light stock in the hands of the manufacturers, and they will either have to take the stock in the Eastern market or go West early and give small orders there; if they do the latter it will put a large amount of buyers upon the market for a little wool, and again, as in previous years, so kite the price that it will be a losing and embarrassing operation for the whole of the year following. It would be more to the interest of the manufacturers to take wool at present prices, and keep out of the Western market to June and July, than rush into it early and have to take new wool at about the price they can buy old at now in the East. Medium wools are weaker in price than they have been, and although very scarce, yet manufacturers hold off these; super pulled is also much less in demand than it has been.

It is altogether likely that medium wools will be much lower the coming than the past year, for the very unsatisfactory state of the delaine market will cause a suspension of the manufacture of this class of goods, and in some cases a change in the manufacture. Combing wools will be more in demand than they have ever been the coming year. There will be a much larger amount of machinery in operation on this kind of wool than ever before. We are informed that the Hamilton Woolen Company intend putting one of their mills entirely upon a class of goods which will require this kind of wool, and that Joshua Ballard, Esq., has gone to England on business in this connection. One thing we may set down as certain, the worsted manufacture in this country is now a fixed fact, and our farmers ought to view it as such, and begin the production of this style of wool in earnest; for of all branches of agriculture this would be found the most profitable, when the value of the wool and the production of the most excellent mutton and the large early lambs are all taken into account; and if other countries can raise this wool in perfection, why cannot we? The Canadians have had a rich harvest out of this wool for a great many years, and why may not our farmers?

The sales for the week include 250,000 lbs fleece, at prices ranging from 40@50c for medium Ohio, Michigan and State; 45@50c for Ohio X; 54c for Ohio XX, and 5?c for pickload; 175,000 lbs California at 19@28c for fall clip; 29@35c for spring clip, and with 2,000 lbs choice spring clip new, 35c; 150 bales low carpet, on private terms; 53 bales Cordova, on private terms; 200 bales pulled at 37@45c; 8 bales shearings, 20c; 70,000 lbs Texas, 15c for low and very burry, and 25c for medium to good; 15 bales Port Phillip, on private terms; 40 bales Cape, on private terms; and small lots of Canada combing, camels hair and East India, on private terms.

The Zanesville Times says: Not a single wool buyer has been seen or heard of this season, although there is a good crop in the country.

MATTERS AND THINGS ALONG THE WHARF.—Trade yesterday along the landing was not very active, and freights have been thinned out. The Ingomar left for Wheeling with a good trip. The Bayard will be found at the landing this morning and will take her departure at noon for Parkersburg and way ports. The far-famed Julia No. 2, Capt. Coulson, takes her departure this day at 4 P. M. for Wheeling, Marietta and Zanesville. The clerks of this packet, Messrs. Johnson and Pitman, are two of "our" finest poets; we have several original pieces of theirs that we intend to publish when we can find room. The fine packet Leonidas takes her departure this day at 10 A. M. for St. Louis and St. Paul. The Kate Robinson came in from St. Louis with a fine trip. The next boat for St. Louis has not yet been announced.

COMPETITION is so sharp on the steamboat routes between Boston and New York, that fare is down to $2.

OMAHA, May 28.—River rising rapidly. The Leni Leoti, from St. Louis for Benton, arrived this afternoon.

ST. JOSEPH, May 28.—The river commenced rising last night, with a strong current. There is now plenty of water to Omaha. Weather clear and cool.

LOUISVILLE.—The body of Judge Andrew Monroe, who mysteriously disappeared some months ago, was found in the bank of the canal.

THE fleet packet Bayard is the Parkersburg packet for this day. She is in charge of Captain Shepherd, one of the cleverest officers that comes to this port.

BELMONT FURNACE, at Ironton, Ohio, owned by the Belfont Iron Works Company, have commenced operations and are making pig iron with stone coal from the Ashland mines. At present they are turning out twenty-two tons per day, and will, when in full blast, increase to thirty tons per day.

With regard to the condition of the upper Missouri, our late Montana exchanges say that the river at Benton is rising. One gentleman, who has traveled through the mountains of Montana, says there is more snow than was generally supposed. We are glad to hear it, and only hope that it may prove correct.

BULK OIL FOR ST. LOUIS.—The towboat Hawk No. 2 left for St. Louis with two model barges containing 4,000 barrels crude oil for the St. Louis Refining Company. She also towed out two barges of railroad iron for Vicksburg. The iron was shipped by Capt. R. C. Gray.

HO, FOR ZANESVILLE.—The far-famed packet Julia No. 2, Captain Coulson, takes her departure for Wheeling, Marietta and Zanesville. For speed, accommodation and attentive officers this boat stands A No. 1. The clerks are Messrs. Johnson and Pitman. Those going that way have a fine opportunity is presented.

THE Davenport Gazette says: Messrs. Case Co. are preparing the rapids for steamboat with all possible dispatch. The chisel and dredge boats are rapidly completing their work on the Duck creek chain. Work on a coffer dam on the Moline chain will be commenced this week. The dam will be one thousand feet long, and wide enough to give the necessary channel for boats.

THE Evansville Journal says: The Westmoreland had nearly 800 tons of freight, and a big passenger trip. We were glad to see Captain Ed. Evans, one of the biggest hearted gentlemen in the world, in first rate health and good spirits, and Messrs Vandegriff and Deem, and Dan. Weaver were all in fine feather and all seemed well. The Westmoreland was only out eight days, and did a large way business, landing everywhere.

HO FOR ST. PAUL AND THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI.—The first-class steamer Leonidas, Captain James Shedden, is announced for the above ports on Monday. The Leonidas is one of the best boats of her class afloat, and all persons who have traveled with Captain Shedden speak in flattering terms of her appointments. The first clerk is that old and tried Mr. John Fisher, one of natures noblemen, and as clever a gentleman as ever took charge of an office. John has plenty of friends and does credit to their friendship.

A COMPANY has been formed in New York city, and the necessary capital paid in, for the immediate construction of a new steamboat, two hundred and sixteen feet long, especially designed to run forty miles an hour. The boat is to be operated on the plan patented by Stephen I. Gold, a man of science, the inventor of many valuable improvements, and more are Gold's steam heating devices, now very extensively used. His present invention consists in a new mode of applying steam power to the paddle wheels, by which he is enabled to make use of machinery having great effective force, with but little weight. This results in a reduction of the immersed cross section of the vessel, and a consequent increase of speed over ordinary boats.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN A. McGOWIN.—A dispatch from St. Louis brings us the sad intelligence of the death of Captain McGowin, who died on board the steamer Armenia, lying at the port of St. Louis, of inflammation of the bowels. Captain McGowin had but recently taken command of the Armenia, leaving here only some ten days ago, apparently in the best of health. "Truly, in the midst of life we are in death." As a token of respect to the memory of the deceased, the flags of the steamers in port will be placed at half mast, remaining so until sundown. Captain McGowin was an officer of large experience and pleasing address, having held command of some of the best boats on the Western waters, and was considered one of our most popular commanders. Due notice of the funeral will be found in this morning's paper.

GREAT BOAT RACE.—Last night the great boat race of the season came off between the Harry Johnson, Jasper and Belle of Alton. The Johnson was the first to leave St. Louis; then the Jasper, and lastly the Belle started out about three hundred yards behind the Johnson. For the first six miles the Belle gained but little, owing to some defect in her machinery. This being remedied, she rapidly overhauled the Johnson, and passed her under way, and then landed at Madison. Having discharged for Edwardsville freight, she again started out, passed the Johnson and the Jasper, which had passed her at the landing, and landed in the Belle landed. The Belle was five hundred yards ahead. The Jasper made no show in the race at all, having only reached the "Point" when the Belle landed. The Harry Johnson is the swiftest of the up river packets, and yet she was badly beaten by the new Alton packet, which now wears the "horns." A large crowd was on the levee to witness the race, and the triumph of the Belle was received with prolonged shouts of applause.—Alton Telegraph, 27th.
